Happy Holidays!

Tis the season to be merry! We here at PEP wish you and yours a very happy, healthy and festive holiday season!

This is our culminating newsletter of 2019, and we also have a culminating video showcasing our services that we've created and included below. We thank all of you for having us be a part of your wonderful events.

We also recently debuted our Living Frame, which is our take on a step-and-repeat/welcoming crew/photo op! Guests at this event were delighted while interacting with the performers and taking a photo within the life-size frame. As with all PEP offerings, the theme and decor of the Frame and performers can be completely customized to your event.

In our recent PEP Talks blog, we spotlight our PEP Reps! If you hire our entertainment, a PEP Rep will be present on-site during your event to ensure everything goes safely and smoothly. (You can spot two of them in the Living Frame photo above).

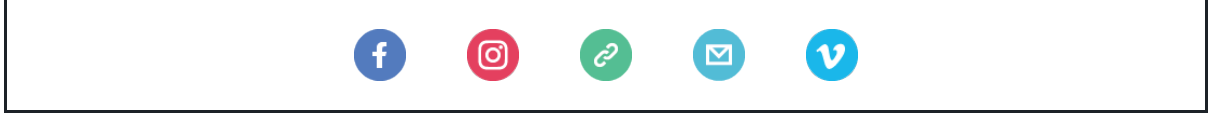

Check out our recent blog for this and lots of other informative and interesting content related to entertainment!

Thanks so much for supporting PEP. We hope to work with each and everyone one of you in 2020! And again, happy holidays!
